GULFSTREAM

Glam Rock's new Gulfstream Collection is part of the Spring/Summer 2010 line to be introduced at Basel, the natural evolution of the round-shaped Miami and Racetrack models. After extensive ergonomic research, Glam Rock created these watches to perfectly follow the natural curve of the wrist, while maintaining a length that does not extend beyond the curve. The quality and materials are classic Glam Rock: 6 screws on the case back, water resistance to 10 ATM, sapphire crystal, crown with cabochon, and ceramic case cover. Miami's passion for horse racing influenced the name and the design: the outer ring of the case imitates the shape of the horse racing track in Miami named Gulfstream.

Designed in a sportive and distinctive style, the various versions of Forza marry technique, strength and elegance. Three Swiss self-winding movements display different sets of functions on patterned opalin dials with applied indexes – chronograph with tachymeter scale, 3-hand watch with big date and power reserve indication, or 3-hand watch with day and date counters and power reserve indication. The all-black PVD-coated stainless steel case alternates polished and fine-brushed finishing. Its unique profile creates a wave under the large and comfortable "pebble" of the case. Black genuine rubber strap with wave pattern and black PVD-coated clasp.
